

Our client is small but growing retail business which is part of a larger international group. This is a newly created role which requires someone with strong payroll experience, you will also be capable of dealing with some general accounts work, particularly the payment of expenses and associated VAT work. Due to the company structure the incumbent will also take on HR responsibility and a strong working knowledge of HR legislation is required.

read full article